CLEMENT AND PEKOE

Founders Simon and Dairine are based in Dublin and devoted to sustainability across the world. Their delicious organic tea promotes ethical farming and uses thoughtfully compostable or recyclable packaging.

DUNCANNON SMOKE HOUSE

Frank Ronan set up his smoke house by the Wexford coastline in 1974. Today, his son Kai carries on the master smoker tradition with ethically caught, small-batch, handcrafted smoked seafood.

O'NEILL'S BACON

Using an old family recipe and Irish sea salt, Pat O'Neill naturally dry-cures Irish pork in Enniscorthy, Co. Wexford in the traditional way turned by hand and allowed to develop a depth of flavour over several weeks.

ST TOLA GOAT CHEESE

St Tola Goat Cheese had humble beginnings as a small cottage industry in the late 1970s in Co. Clare. However with Siobhán's vision and the hard work of her team, she has developed an internationally recognised brand that has won nearly every award that cheese can win.

MOSSFIELD ORGANIC FARM

Mossfield Organic Farm is located six miles from Birr in County Offaly at the foot of the Sleive Bloom Mountains. The majority of the farm consists of limestone pasture which produces lush grass interwoven with wild herbs and clover, this provides ideal grazing for the herd of eighty cows. Ralph Haslam has been farming at Mossfield since 1970 and in 1999 converted to organic farming.

JOHN STONE BEEF

For five decades, John Stone has built an unrivalled reputation around the world as a supplier of the finest Dry Aged Beef. Their Artisan butchers expertly select the absolute best Irish Beef from traceable herds, reared only on the freshest, greenest grass. This, combined with the unique Dry Ageing process creates a highly distinctive flavour and the most succulent meat.

PONAIRE

Tommy and Jennifer Ryan live in Newport, Co. Tipperary, and source coffee from around the world, tracing every bean back to a specific farm. They've travelled the globe to visit many of these suppliers to confirm their ethical, fair, and sustainable practices. Their coffee is blended and roasted right here in Ireland, with irresistible, award-winning results.

FÍOR UISCE

Fíor Uisce is the only Irish water that is rock filtered for 1000 years through volcanic strata and limestone beds of Co. Mayo. During this time the water naturally infuses itself with a unique balance of minerals which gives the water functional properties.
